A WINNER OF SIX FIRST PRIZES.

CORK DISTILLERIES Co. Ltd.

Paddy Flaherty

Judges Reports

General Remarks.—I think your committee can be very well satisfied with the standard of the prize winners at your show—they impressed me as being a good deal better than those I judged in 1911, and rather better than those of 1909. But I was rather disappointed in finding in each class that after the actual prize winners the standard was lower than in past years. The young stock were well grown and shown in mid-matured condition. I beg to thank your committee for asking me to judge, which honour I much appreciated, and also for all the help and kindness I received from the stewards and others.
MERRICK BURRELL. (Signed).

SECOND DAY.

Class 1.—The winner is a splendid type of brood mare, and deservedly won the Hunters' Improvement Society's Medal later in the day. The second is a big roomy mare, but plain, and a bit back of her knees. The third is a nice type, but not right of her pasterns. The fourth, roomy and powerful, but plain. The remainder were disappointing.

Sir M. B.

On the whole, the riding classes, the brood mares, and the foals were, I should say, up to standard, the remaining classes not quite so much so. Nevertheless, as a whole, the show was decidedly good, representing a very large sum of money in horseflesh at the prices now ruling.

HUGH CHOLMONDELEY.

Class 1.—Brood Mare and Foal to breed 14 stone hunters.—This was a good class and included very few bad ones.

JUDGES' REPORTS.

The Secretary then read the judges' reports with regard to the various classes in the show as follows:—

FIRST DAY.

Class 7.—Was headed by a very valuable type of horse, having both size, power and quality. Second to him was another very good horse, with a better mouth than the winner, but lacking his depth of body and cleanness of limb. The third was good-looking and rode well, but showed considerable wear of his joints, and was weak of his hind pasterns. There were others in the class up to weight, but they lacked the quality of the first three.

Su. m. B.

Class 7—(15 stone and over).—The first and second prize horses were exceptionally good-looking. The remainder included several animals. A good class.

Judges Report.

Class 8.—Was a good class, headed by a very nice horse that had manners, pace and looks. Second to him was a very handsome brown horse, with extra good action in his walk and trot, and very clean limbs. Third was a nice quality long, low, horse, which would have beaten the second except that he is a pottery walker and has not the soundest of hocks. The 4th is a strong, good-looking horse, but rolls under one in his trot. The fifth, an exceedingly good-looking chestnut, that would have nearly won the class if he had been properly balanced, but he goes with all his weight on his fore-hand.

Class 8—(13 stone to 15 stone).—In this class the placed horses were of exceptional value, notably the first and third and reserve. This was a good class. One very good-looking horse which would have attracted considerable notice in Class 7 was not accepted as being within the limits of the class.

F. H. THOMPSON & SON, LIMITED, CORK.Ornamented Gateaux, suitable for Wedding Receptions, Tennis and Garden Parties.Judges Report*

Class 9.—Was won by a charming grey mare, with perfect balance and great activity. Second, was a useful and good horse, but he would have been beaten by the third if the latter had been a little bigger. But for his lack of size this chestnut mare was nearly perfection. The fourth is a fine goer, but very green at present.

Sir. M. B.

Class 9—(12-7 to 13-7).—This was a good class; the placed horses were all good rides. The third prize horse was perhaps rather small, but made up by being such a fine mover.

F. H. THOMPSON & SON, LIMITED, CORK.

Special Spiced Pressed Beef, Ox Tongues, Galantines, Hot and Cold Entrees.

Class 16.—Was won by a good, long, low, strong-limbed horse, which would be quite first class but for rather bent hind legs. The second was handsomer than the first, but not so truly limbed. The third next, but small and too set. The fourth, big-boned and growthy, but too straight in front and moved moderately.

See no 13Absent no 206.Absent 207.

Class 16—(Two year old colts).—Somewhat moderate in quality. The placed horses were all fairly good.

- 230.—Michael J. Buckley, Racecourse, Charleville.
 "Dorothy Dean," chestnut; bred by exhibitor; s., Dean's Cap by Turk's Cap; d., Prima Donna by Scene-shifter.

Class 19.—Was won by a very well-grown and handsome filly with a splendid back, loins and hind legs. She would be something quite exceptionally good if her forelegs were less straight. Her bone is good and her tendons very strong, so that given plenty of liberty her forelimbs may quite likely improve. The second was of nice quality, but moved poorly. The third was small and the remaining one moderate.

Class 19—(Yearling fillies).—A somewhat poor class, both in numbers and quality.

First Prize £4 0 0 Won by 233
 Second Prize 2 0 0 do. 240

With reference to the classes judged by me, the first-prize winners in each case were of exceptionally good class, showing great quality, with good action, and were good rides, particularly the winner in Class 21. The winner in Class 22 was also an exceptionally good ride and nicely balanced. With the exception of the first prize winner, the children's ponies did not attain that standard of manners and pace one would have hoped to meet with in the class.

F. H. THOMPSON & SON, LIMITED, CORK.
Small Fancy Cakes in great variety for Afternoon Tea, Garden
Parties, Wedding Receptions, &c.

The poultry show may, from every point of view, be regarded as a decided success, and, considering it an initial effort, the entries were, on the whole, satisfactory. There is every reason to hope that better support would be forthcoming another year. The quality of the exhibits was, with a few exceptions, good, especially in the Sussex and Wyandotte classes. Several of the birds in those classes were excellent examples of the value of early-hatched chickens. From an educational point of view it would be an advantage to provide a class another year for the best pair of cockerels or pullets of any one pure breed, suitable for market purposes.

Sweet peas in the open classes were, in my opinion, as near perfection as ever we shall see them; the stems possessed, as a rule, four flowers each, the individual flowers being of fine substance and colour. In each of these classes the first-prize lot stood well ahead, and to produce such blooms the cultural details must have been well-nigh perfect.

Hybrid perpetual roses were good and big entries, nearly all possessing good substances, with nice colours, and few faults in even the losing lots.

Hybrid tea roses were also nice in substance and colours, with no artificial aids, such as one finds at times in the shape of wire bindings to the bud.

Zonal geraniums did not fill to the entries, but the lot which was staged was well worthy of a first prize.

Antirrhinums were fairly good.

I found no pansies or violas in the open classes, which, I am sure, could have been easily filled, if scheduled.

The amateur section failed to fill its entries, but if the exhibitors who came forward were representative of the bulk who remained away, some good stuff has been grown in Cork.

The class for twelve roses had a rare second prize exhibit, which, by reason of one really bad bloom, only had to give way to a uniform lot of commoner varieties, from a rosarian's point of view.

Sweet peas in the amateur's section were of a different calibre to the open, but the varieties and colours were nice.

Stocks and pansies, as staged, were of good quality.

The baskets of flowers brought out a first prize of beautiful roses, artistically set up.

Strawberries were quite good, the first prize lot being firm and ripe and well-coloured fruits. The next three lots had their positions decided by minor faults only.

Cork's horticultural potentialities are great enough to justify a strong attempt at an educational exhibition, and, if not deviating too much from the report you have asked me to give, I may state that I am aware that the shows of the past were large and representative, and not apparently taken advantage of. Still, I think the good seed sown has been taken advantage of, and the results are quite apparent (if isolated examples only) in the class of produce which cottagers stage at some of the agricultural shows I have judged at.

Take the two instances where cottagers made an exhibit at the County Council stand. I think any unprejudiced person will admit these examples as healthy and originated by some object lesson received at a show.

I have marked the advances made by two cottagers for the past four years at a local show in the county, and it is a pleasure to note the vigorous strides towards excellence made by these individuals each succeeding year.

COACHFORD UTILITY FARM,—SPECIAL EXHIBITION OF THE UTILITY FOSTER MOTHERS AND OF HATCHING AND REARING CHICKENS.

A Special Exhibiton of the latest method of hatching and rearing Chickens will be given in the Show Grounds by the Inventors and Manufacturers of the INTENSIVE FOSTER MOTHERS. By this method 40,000 three months old Chickens can be reared to the acre every year. The Exhibition is supervised by Mrs. George O'Grady, winner of "The Poultry World" Thousand Pound Farm. A Prize awarded to the ablest expert of Poultry in the United Kingdom.

This Exhibition will comprise Incubators, and will show the Chicken coming out, and be accompanied by a Lecture explaining the working of the Incubator. The next Section shows one of the Foster Mothers containing the Chickens just after they are seen hatched out. In the third Section will be shown another Foster Mother containing Chickens just before they are removed.

The fourth Section shows the Chickens at 16 weeks old and every information will be provided on the fattening and cramming process.

The 5th Section shows some of the suitable breeds fattened. The difference in results between these and the unsuitable breeds.

The 6th Section will be shown for the first time. The Coachford Poultry House. The patent for the above inventions have been applied for and granted. Used by this firm.

Artesian Well Rotary Boring Plant in operation driven by Petrol Engine. Samples of Solid Covers extracted by Rotary Diamond and Shot processes. Samples of Tubes for lining Artesian Wells. Artesian Wells Pumps, &c., &c. The following are some of the advantages of the Artesian Well System of Water Supply:—Simplicity of construction, therefore cheapness. No surface or sewerage contamination. Water pure and plentiful, cool and refreshing. Water several degrees cooler in summer than other water. No filtering. No pumping while drilling. Takes up very little space. No blasting during construction; hence can be put down close to or inside of buildings. The mineral value of the property is proved. Large consumers save from 30 to 90 per cent. on their present water bill. Illustrated Booklet of 16 pages free on application. ASK FOR LIST OF USERS and copies of their testimonials.
