This is the new Dunlop symbol. It is designed to express the lively forward thinking of a company constantly pressing ahead on research into all the ways in which rubber can be used to make things better for everyone.

Proud as it is of its past (so closely linked with this country) Dunlop lives in the future. It is today a youthful, vigorous, international concern with 100,000 employees, 103 factories and 20 research laboratories in all five continents.

SYLGLAS PRODUCT OF THIRTY YEARS SCIENCE IN WATERPROOFING

SYLGLAS is available in three forms. It is essentially a sticky and very pliable material impregnated into and coated on to a cotton fabric, a jute cord or a jute cord with cotton fibres and other fillers and is known as Sylglas Mastic.

All forms of Sylglas are impervious to water and readily adhere to most surfaces, and moreover will stay adjoined indefinitely.

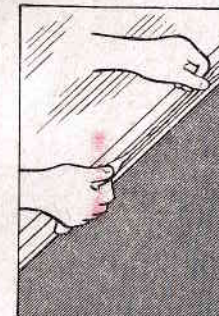

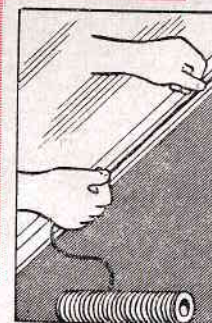

Applying Sylglas Tape over glazing bar

The most important feature of Sylglas is that it will never harden or become brittle and will not crack.

Sylglas is very easy to use. Obtain simple precautions should be observed. See Instruction Leaflet which accompanies each roll.

Sylglas is generally used by gardeners, seedsmen, Builders' Merchants, etc., but if any quantity is required locally, enquiries should be made to the nearest distributor.

Applying (a) Sylglas Cord and (b) Sylglas Mastic into glazing bar rebates.

It's only common sense!

There is no use spending a large amount of money on such things as seeds, machinery, labour, etc., and neglecting to ensure that your soil is in good heart. It is, indeed, a true saying that it costs nearly as much to grow a poor crop as a good one.

Proper fertilising of the soil is an essential part of successful farming and in fact, without it, it is impossible to show a good return.

Remember, fertilisers amount to only a small fraction of the total cost of producing a crop and if you neglect this most important item you will not obtain that extra yield that means an extra profit to you.

The 1960 Silver Medal in the National Ice Cream Alliance Competition held at Southport was won by Merville Cream Ices, Ltd. in the Horizontal Freezer Class. It was gained in competition with ice cream manufacturers from both Britain and the whole of Ireland. To date it is not only the highest award ever won by an Irish ice cream manufacturer, but it is also the first time that the Silver Medal has been won by an Irish firm. Since 1954 Merville have consistently won Diplomas of merit for the quality of their cream ices.
