

CHAIRMAN ADDRESS

Once again it is my pleasure, on behalf of all members of the Organising Committee, to welcome you to Cork Summer Show.

How quickly show time has come around once more and as always it is hoped that within the varied programme of events there will be a number which will be of interest and pleasure to all those who attend.

This year we are breaking with tradition, in that the show will be held over two rather than three days with of course the usual additional preceding day confined to Show Jumping. In fact such are the numbers wishing to participate in the various jumping competitions that some competitions will commence on Thursday evening. Additionally, the showing classes also have increased entries so our Equine and show Jumping committees and most importantly our Judges are going to have a very exacting time getting the programme completed in the time available.

Numbers in the Cattle classes I understand have been maintained, this is very encouraging, particularly when one considers the difficulties confronting the cattle industry at this time. We are certain that the same exceptionally high standard in all classes will again be evident and that the animals which are eventually chosen for rosettes will compare favourably with the very many excellent animals which have appeared in our judging rings in the past.

Sheep numbers will compare with previous years and no doubt will continue to attract the usual high level of interest.

There was much complimentary comment about the Poultry section at last years show, it was I gather a particularly fine exhibition and we are hoping and expecting the same again this year. May I suggest you make a point of calling to the Poultry Hall during your visit and at the same time see the Rare Breeds and Pets Corner which will be located alongside and are always a great attraction.

The Harrier & Beagle Show continues to expand each year, we look forward to its continuing success and hope for the inclusion of additional interesting events in the future.

A visit to the Flower & Gardens and Arts & Crafts section are always essential, they can be found in their usual locations and I know you will greatly enjoy and admire the beauty and artistry of the numerous exhibitors, congratulations to you all for what you have achieved.

Macra Na Feirme are always very welcome participants at the Show, they re here again in strength this year but in a new location between the Cattle rings and the Marina Hall. Our thanks to all concerned in Macra for joining us once more.

stands will as always cover a wide and varied cross-section of commercial activity. We are very pleased to welcome a number of new firms this year but at the same time sorry to see that some of our "oldfriends" decided against participating, hopefully as a result of this year show they will come back again next year.

Regretfully, the Food Hall will be a much smaller event this year. It has been suggested that our show is taking place too close to the major food promotion which took place in Dublin about ten days ago, this may well be so but it is nevertheless disappointing that in one of the premier agriculture production areas in the country this event does not have better support. Having said this, we are grateful to the firms who have taken space and we do hope they will be well pleased with their attendance.

Due to the curtailment of the show to a two day event it has unfortunately been necessary to reduce the size of some exhibits and cancell others due to lack of space, for example the Tug-of-War competition. we will of course be keeping the situation under review for future shows, when hopefully these events can again be incorporated.

In concluded, I would like to thank specifically all our Sponsors whose financial support we rely on so heavily, also our Exhibitors, Judges, Stewards and the many Committee Members who have given up so much of their time to make the Show a reality. My thanks also to our office staff Helen O'Sullivan, Pat O'Reilly and Jacinta Dunne, grounds man Pat Dennehy and P.M. Cooney who has undertaken the letting of the Table Stands, their work appreciated by us all.

May I wish you all a very happy visit to Cork Show, we need your continuing support and your presence here to day suggests that you are interest in the Society. Might I therefore appeal to you to please consider becoming a Member - application forms are available at the Secretary's Office or the Information Centre, it doesn't cost a lot and the benefits are tangible.

Keith Johnston
Chairman.
